
Now Offering Sclerotherapy

Individuals with spider veins can now consider sclerotherapy, a minimally invasive, in-office treatment at VitalityMDs. These small, dilated blood vessels appear close to the surface of the skin and can cause discomfort in addition to being cosmetically undesirable.

During sclerotherapy, a sclerosing agent is injected directly into the affected veins using a fine needle. This solution irritates the lining of the blood vessel, causing it to collapse and eventually fade away. Over time, the treated veins are absorbed by the body, and blood is rerouted through healthier veins.

It may take multiple sessions spaced several weeks apart to achieve the desired results, depending on the extent of the spider veins and individual response to treatment. Book now for a consultation with one of our experienced providers or call 480.425.8700.
